HUERTA, LOCKED UP AT EL PASO, SAYS HE FEELS HIGH HONOR

But Former Dictator Bitterly Resents Methods of U.S. Secret Service Men.

HELD WITH THREE ALLIES

Station Surrounded by Troops as Mexican Populace Cries for Downfall of Villa.

EL PASO, July 4,-With Gen. Victoriano Huerta, former dictator of Mexico. locked in a felon's cell at the county jail, United States troops and officials generally seeking Gen. Pascual Orozco, one of General Huerta's former lieutenants, and rumors and reports of defection in the ranks of the Villa garrison in Juarez, the Mexican border situation took on a tenseness today that has not been equaled at El Paso since the inauguration of the Madero revolu-

Huerta was unable to raise $15,000 bond required upon a second charge of conspiracy to violate the neutrality of the United States.

When told by Commissioner George Oliver that he would have to go to jail. Huerta merely said:

"All right, I am ready."

Three Others Held. Three of his generals, Caus, Delgado, and Bravo, and J. B. Rathner, and Enrique Gorostieta also were taken to the jail in default of $15,000 bond each. A cordon of United States troops was placed around the jail to prevent sympathizers from attempting to release the Mexicans. Much indignation was ex-

Mexicans. Much indignation was expressed by the Huerta followers.

Rather generally, sympathy today is with General Huerta as a result of his confinement. The fact that he is a former president of Mexico led many to protest openly at his being given quarters no better than the murderer and the burglar. Those of Villa sympathies strongly asserted that he was at last getting his deserts. General Huerta himself accepted the situation philosophically and said:

Appreciates High Honor. "It is the first time in my life that a was ever locked in a cell and I appreciate the high honor.'

Members of the former dictators in custody. Huerta at first refused out just reason, molested me and my family here. I am already under arrest under some charges and have furnished bond with the local authorities for my release. Now I have been re-arrested. I respectfully ask an order from your court that your representatives here he the holdings in American railroads in perform and the conduct I must pursue that henceforth my family and myself may remain unmolested.

He has lost much of the cheerfulness that he has outwardly shown since his arrest in El Paso on arriving here last Sunday. This was evidenced in his outburst Saturday afternoon in the court of the United Status United States Commissioner, Oliver when he asserted that he was being hounded by United States officials at the behest of enemies.

The fact that in all their searches for hidden munitions of war. United States officials have been accompanied by Hector Ramos, chief of the Villa secret service. leads General Huerta to believe that the United States Government is working openly for Villa and his cause. "Neutrality." he said, with a laugh, today. "Yes, neutrality is a good word, but it is not defined in the dictionary as it is administered by the Government of the United States."

Huerta, when he went to jail Saturday because he could not give a $15,000 bond, already was under bond in a similar amount on a similar charge filed against him here a week ago today.

Commissioner Oliver, in fixing the bond, asked the United States Secret Bervice agents if a guard would be continued over the general, regardless of the bond, and was informed that it of the bond, and was informed that it would. He then fixed the bond in the second case at $15,000, although the United States had asked that it be fixed at $100,000. It is known that if he gives the second bond, the military at Fort Bliss will place him in detention at the fort. This was officially announced, and Provost Marshal Shallenberger remained at the police station until after midnight wating to see if Huerta could or would give his latest bond.

May Supersede First. It is stated that the last charge filed against him may be permitted to supersede the first one filed at El Paso and that in this event he would be removed to San Antonio. It all depends, the officers admit, on whether the case at San Antonio or here is the stronger. He will be held to answer in the case in which the evidence is the strongest. d Orozco having made his from his home with three his escape from his home with three military and three civilian guards watching his house, the officials of the United States have determined, they admit, to give Huerta no such chance, and if he is released from jail, he also will be interned at the fort.

There is a possibility that an applica-tion for habeas corpus will he made in behalf of Huerta and his associates now ocked in jail, before Federal Judge

T. S. Maxey, at San Antonio.

Military and civil officials along the border have been instructed to keep a sharp lookout for General Orozco, who is believed to be attempting to reach less the property of th is believed to be attempting to reach Jose Ynez Salazar, who has been in Mexico for months near Juarez somewhere in the mountains, and is said to have recruited an army of 1,400 men.

Two troops in two of the Villa garrisons in Juarez are said to have left that city yesterday, riding off with their horses and arms, in defiance of their commander. It is said they went to join Orozco, and an attack upon Juarez would be no surprise. The civil officials of El Paso wired last night to various Congressmen and Senators askvarious Congressmen and Senators ask-ing that artillery be sent to El Paso. There is no battery here at the present

As a result of the division of senti-ment among the Mexicans of El Paso over the arrest of General Huerta and the conduct of the Villa secret service men here in connection with his arrest. rioting between the refugee colony and Villa sympathizers would not be a surprise to El Pasoans, although there has been no indication of it as yet. The fact that Huerta has been cheered by hundreds wherever he went since his arrival in El Paso, indicates that the Villa sentiment is not the predominating sentiment among the Mexican population here.

At the beginning of the war it was estimated that this country owed Europe between $5,000,000,000 and $6,000,000,-000. Of course, many of the American securities held abroad are of local cnar-acter, such as those of utility and industrial corporations, and consequently were not included in Mr. Loree's report, but financiers are now inclined to the belief that the foreign debt may be eliminated in a half score of years if the trade balance can be made

Security markets have been quite dull for some time, and there is no indication of extensive improvement in the situation at present. Dear Sir:—When I have a "good thing" I like to pase it on to others. The "good thing" I have is a recommendation of the Ladies' Capitol Hat Shop, of 808 Eleventu street northwest. I had a hat which I had used for several summers, but which was out of style and sadly in need of cleaning, so on consulting The Times classified ads I was referred to the Ladies' Hat Shop. For a very reasonable sum my hat was cleaned and reshaped with such skill that it looks like a 1915 model, at about one-fourth the cost.

Respectfully,

Dear Sir:—I had some painting to be done, so called in a painter to get an estimate on the work. I was not satisfied with his price, so decided to do the work myself.

I found that I could buy a very much better grade of paint from George R. Gill than the painter would have used, and put it on myself at a big reduction in price. The paint was highly satisfactory and I take pleasure in recommending George R. Gill to all who need paint of any kind.
